Kathmandu Valley Sightseeing Brief Itinerary

: Pashupatinath Temple

We start our Kathmandu valley sightseeing and commence to visit the beginning points of Pashupatinath Temple. It is situated on the bank of river Bagmati in Deopatan which is located 5 km North-East of Kathmandu valley in the eastern city of Kathmandu, the capital of Nepal. It is also one of the most beautiful cultural Heritage of Kathmandu where Pashupatinath Temple is also called the Monkey. Temple as well as holly temple which belongs to the holy river Bagmati. The exact date of the Pashupatinath Temple is unknown and from above we can see all the small temples of the different gods and goddess surrounded. Where ever we can see the cremations of all the Hindu culture after the death of the people. Pashupatinath Temple darshan timings are from 4 am to 12 noon and again from 5 pm to 9 pm the night. The temple stays closed from noon to 5 pm every day. Pashupatinath Temple Aarti's timings are in the evening from 6-7:30 pm.

: Boudhanath Stupa

Afterward, proceed to Boudhanath another Buddhist Stupa and a World Heritage site. It is also famous for its power to fulfill wishes and blessings. This Bauddda Stupa was built shortly after the death of Lord Buddha and is the largest single Chhorten in the World. The Boudhanath Stupa is located 11 km far from the center and northeastern outskirts of Kathmandu Valley. It takes half an hour drive from the central part of the Kathmandu valley from Thamel. In this Stupa`s huge Mandala it one of the largest spherical Stupa`s in Nepal.

: Swayambhunath Temple

Now we will reach the next destination which is called the Swayambhunath Stupa. It takes half an hour to reach there from the Buddhanilkantha temple. Swoyambhunath Stupa is an ancient religious architecture at atop a hill in the Kathmandu Valley, west of Kathmandu city. The Tibetan name for the site means 'Sublime Trees' for the many varieties of trees found on the hill. A journey up to the Buddhist Temple and UNESCO World Heritage Site of Swoyambhunath is one of the definitive experiences of Kathmandu Valley.

The Swayambhunath Stupa, also known as the Monkey Temple, is indeed one of the most iconic and revered landmarks in the Kathmandu Valley. Its architectural brilliance and spiritual significance draw visitors and pilgrims from around the world.

The whitewashed dome represents the world, and the gilded spire is said to symbolize enlightenment. The four faces of Buddha, gazing serenely in all directions, convey the omnipresence of wisdom and compassion. Surrounding the stupa, prayer wheels, smaller shrines, and monasteries enrich the atmosphere of devotion.

The resilience of the Swayambhunath Stupa during the 2015 earthquake is a testament to the incredible craftsmanship and spiritual foundation of the monument. While the earthquake devastated many heritage sites in Nepal, it's heartening to know that this sacred site retained its majesty with only superficial damage. Have you visited it before, or are you planning a trip to experience its beauty?

: Kathmandu Durbar Square

Kathmandu Durbar Square is also UNESCO World Heritage sites among the three Durbar Square (Royal Palace). The Kathmandu Durbar Square held the palaces of the Malla and Shah Kings who ruled over the city. Along with these places, the square surrounds quadrangles, revealing courtyards and temples. It is known as Hanuman Dhoka Durbar Square, a name derived from a statue of Hanuman, The monkey devotee of Lord Ram, at the entrance of the palace. We can visit over there special places such as Courtyard of Kumari Bahal, Kal Bhairav, Taleju Temple, Museum & Ashok Vinayak at Hanuman- Dhoka Durbar Square. The palace is decorated with elaborately - carved wooden windows and panels and houses the King Tribhuvan Memorial Museum and the Mahendra Museum. It is possible to visit the state rooms inside the palace.
